Eyraud, the Murderer, in Paris.

A BARK BURNED AT SEA.

Princess Dolgorouki's Book Being Translated,

Which Greatly Alarms the Aristocracy.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, June 28.—Princess Dolgorouki, the morganatic Czarina of Russia, was long ago known to be writing her memoirs, so the lynx-eyed police of St. Petersburg were ordered to watch the stage of its progress but not to be premature in seizing it. Just as the publishers were about to distribute it for sale the cold-blooded imperial detectives walked in and claimed every copy in the name of the Czar.

Princess Dalgorouki was, however, a little too smart for the police, as she had anticipated a possible raid by sending a complete unbound, corrected copy across the frontier by messengers. This book was then mailed to Paris and is now being rapidly translated into French.

The character of the writer and her well-known way of expressing things will cause a tremendous demand for the work. Every effort that diplomacy could devise has been employed by the Russian Embassy and by the Russian agents to stop its publication.

Cabinet and chamber secrets are told in a manner to alarm the blue-blooded autocrats of all the Russias. The Princess knows of all the family jars, all the domestic running after false gods.

She had more than once checked intrigues of the so-called ladies of the palace, who sought to estrange from her the late Emperor's affections.

Even the liasons of the present master of Russia, while he was in the wild oats period of his life, were known to her, and rumor has it that her intervention more than once saved the young Crown Prince from embarrassments.

The quotations from her memoirs are interesting. The Princess says: "Marks [she calls the Czar this several times throughout the work] and I spent his last night on earth together. On the same morning of the day on which he was killed, and also, in fact, during the evening before the tragic event, I was in the room adjoining that in which the police report for the day was being submitted to the Emperor.

"When it was mentioned that soldiers had been stationed on all sides to guard the palace, the Czar, in a moment of intense irritation, exclaimed: 'Am I surrounded by traitors even in my own house? If such be the case, then, the most wretched beggar is happier than I. Hereafter I shall appeal to the people to show them that I have confidence in them and that I do not fear assassins who dare not emerge from their obscurity.'

"He then came into my room and said: 'I have decided on going to Vienna, although Russians are hated there. I must settle some business with the Emperor of Austria which I cannot intrust to a third party.'"

The bulk of the work relates to the "Happy home life I had with my husband and children," which will not please the courts of Europe. That the late Emperor was her husband all Europe has admitted; but that she should write of him as "all her own" is galling to the "legitimate family."

Trying to Re-organize.
By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, June 30.—At a meeting of the Sugar Refineries Company today Theodore A. Havemeyer, Charles Foster and J. E. Searls Jr. were empowered to elect William W. Havemeyer, William Dick and Charles O. Foster as trustees.

It was announced that proxies for 235,942 certificates had been received, which insure the existing management retaining control.

A statement prepared by the trustees was read, stating that they, with counsel, had under consideration a plan for re-organizing the company to meet all requirements of the State law. The statement called attention to the fact that the Court of Appeals decision was technical; while it opposed monopolies, it did not attack the principle of the pooling business and kindred interests.

Colonel J. C. Reiff asked for a financial statement of the company's affairs, and demanded as a minority certificate holder to inspect the books. He was referred to the Treasurer, who, the Chairman said, would furnish such information as was thought proper to make public. Theodore A. Havemeyer said informally that buyers of certificates should have informed themselves before that the corporation was not conducted like a railway. It was not to be expected that the earnings, etc., would be made public, though they were accessible to all certificate holders.

SYDNEY, June 30.—The second race between O'Connor, the Canadian oarsman, and Stansbury of New South Wales, which was rowed owing to the claim by O'Connor that he was fouled by Stnsburry in the first race last Monday, took place to-day and was won by Stansbury, who thus wins $5,000 and the championship of the world.

LONDON, June 30. — The Buenos Ayres correspondent of the Times telegraphs that the National Bank of Buenos Ayres suspended payment this afternoon, and that shares fell from 168 to 100, and closed at 118. A panic was created on the Bourse, and a general feeling of distrust prevailed. Gold now commands a premium of 148.

A Remarkable Larynx.

The larynx of the great tenor Gayarre, who died not long ago in Madrid, was removed after his death and was found to be of such peculiar formation that it will probably be preserved in some Spanish museum. Gayarre received $1,400 a night in opera, the largest salary ever paid a tenor, and his fortune is estimated at $800,000. He was the son of a blacksmith, and a common workman when his voice first attracted attention, and he was only forty years old when he died.

Oil Explosion—Distillery Burned.
By Associated Press.]

LOUISVILLE, June 30.—By an explosion at the Standard Oil refinery fire this morning three persons were killed and thirty-five wounded.

The immense plant of the Allen Bradley Distillery Company was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $150,000.

Five acres of fire was an awful sight, as witnessed at the Standard Oil Refinery on Fifth and C streets this morning. The immense structure was blazing at every point and the heat was so intense that even at 200 yards away persons were overcome.

The following is a list of calualties: Andrew McDonald, aged 12, badly burned, but will recover; John McDonald, aged 14, literally roasted alive, cannot live; Dan O'Neil, aged 12, burned to a crisp, will die; John Kline, aged 22, frightfully burned and cannot recover; S. Skenew, aged 41, terribly burned, but will recover; J. S. Pettigo, aged 45, badly, though not fatally, burned; Arthur Yonkers, aged 18, slightly burned.

At first it was reported that seven lost their lives, and later that three were killed and 35 wounded, but now it is believed that the above will cover the casualties.

The fire broke out at 8:45—the result of the hot weather. On Saturday a tank of crude oil came in to be refined. Some of the workmen thought the tank too hot to be emptied and it was postponed.

This morning it became necessary to run the oil into another tank, and Inspector Skene took John Pettingo and another workman and mounted the manhead and unscrewed the cap. In an instant there was a dull puff as the vapor escaped. It was heavier than the air and sank to the ground, spreading out all over that locality, moving with the wind, and almost in a twinkling it reached one of the sheds under which was a fire. There was a flash as the inflammable vapor ignited, and immediately after a tremendous explosion. The tank was blown to pieces and hundreds of gallons of burning oil scattered all over the great works.

A wall of fire 300 feet high and nearly 900 feet long moved with lightning rapidity to the buildings. At once the canning house, filled with thousands of gallons of canned oil, the cooper shop, carpenter shop, pump and engine houses, filling and lubricating houses, storage houses, paint and glue houses and 900 feet of platform were all ablaze.

All the employes on the grounds and persons in the neighborhood ran for their lives, and all escaped excepting those mentioned. At 11 o'clock the fire promised not to spread further.

Congressional Proceedings.
By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Dickinson, from Kentucky, successor to Carlisle, was sworn in.

The debate on the Federal Election bill was resumed, Herbert of Alabama being accorded the floor.

The Secretary of the Interior transmitted to the House an estimate of an additional appropriation of $931,000 to carry out the provisions of the Disability Pension bill, signed by the President on Friday, $800,000 being for surgeons' fees, $100,000 for clerk hire, and the rest for incidental expenses.

SENATE.

Services in commemoration of the late S. S. Cox were postponed until Tuesday of next week on account of the absence of Voorhees, who desired to take part.

The House bill in relation to oaths in pension and other cases was taken up and passed.

The House bill for the admission of Idaho as a State was taken up, when Morrill gave notice that he would at the earliest practicable moment move to take up the tariff bill.

Platt said he would not consent to any suggestion that interfered with the Idaho bill. As much as he believed in the Tariff bill, and as anxious as he was to see it passed, he would not consent to its coming up until the Idaho bill was disposed of.

Gorman said there had been no understanding arrived at, as was usual, as to the order of business, and he thought business would be very much facilitated if the Senator from Vermont would fix the time when the Tariff bill could be considered the latter part of this week or the beginning of next.

Morrill said it was not his purpose to interfere with the appropriation bills or conference reports.

Teller remarked that the Tariff bill could not possibly be taken up this week. The Senate would probably adjourn from Thursday till Monday, and probably the Idaho bill would not be concluded this week.

Platt thought they ought to be able to get through with the Idaho bill tomorrow.

The report having been read, the bill was temporarily laid aside, and the Agricultural Appropriation bill was taken up. After amendments of minor importance the bill was passed.

Total loss, about $30,000.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

THE short cut being made to solve the question of the constitutionality of the water law by General Clarke for his clients, who are in court, in this and other counties, is a most judicious act.

The proceeding by the writ of prohibition now pending in the Supreme Court will settle all matters involved, without going through lengthy trials, taking up cumbersome and expensive records, and thus subjecting parties to all the expense of the laws delays.

The proceedings have been commenced in the Supreme Court, and the validity of the law is questioned on many grounds, the most vital of which are:

First—That it is a special law in a case where a general law can be made applicable, for the reason that it applies to the use of water and embraces only a part of the territory of the State.

Second—It takes away vested rights of property without "due process of law and without giving the owner an opportunity to be heard."

Third—It grants rights and imposes burdens upon some of the citizens of the State, which are not granted to or imposed upon others.

Fourth—It delegates the law making power to the Governor and clothes the Governor with power to create water districts and the discretion to extend to or withhold from the people of the State the provisions of a statute law.

The judges of the Supreme Court have informally appointed Wednesday, July 9th, to hear argument.

THE Republicans of North Dakota, by fixing the date of their convention for July 29 instead of September 15, have taken a step which will not be encouraging to the Louisiana Lottery company. The supporters of the lottery among the North Dakota Republicans wanted the latter date so that they would know the result of the contest in Louisiana before the convention met, and if that result were disastrous to the gamblers, the lottery leaders in North Dakota would be in a position to help them more effectively in the new State. They were overruled, however, and their defeat is a sure indication that the majority of the dominant party in North Dakota is anti-lottery and again will defeat the Louisiana gamblers if they attempt to transplant their swindling concern to North Dakota. The people of the new State are not for sale.

IN view of the fact that a Constitutional Convention seems almost a necessity, would it not be a good idea to call a public meeting in each county in this State and select delegates composed of the leading men of both parties, on the same basis that the Silver Convention selected delegates, to meet say at Reno during Fair week, to discuss the public needs? All the State officers could be invited to attend and give their views, and in that way we could ascertain just what is for the best. After the subject has been thoroughly discussed some plan of action can be adopted, and, if found necessary, a convention can be called and data furnished it that would be valuable in framing a new organic law.

THE attempt made by several hasty newspapers to belittle Bartine has been a signal failure. Within the past few weeks he has loomed up large in the House, and his speeches have commanded the attention and respect of his associates. He has made a good impression in Congress and worked like a beaver during the session. He will come back to his constituents larger than when he went away.—[Carson Appeal.

Bartine is all right if he will stick to his text and not fly the track. All we have got to find fault with him for is his seeming desire to make himself popular with both sides. He has been doing very well of late, however, and so long as he continues we shall pat him on the back, but at the first bobble he makes we shall reserve the right to criticize him as sharply as the circumstances warrant.

ANOTHER naval scandal is anticipated on the arrival of the United States steamer Richmond from Brazil. Lately these developments are becoming unpleasantly common. Of course, reasons can be found for them if sought in the right direction. In the case of Commander McCalla there seemed to be a tough crew of mostly non-American material, and an officer who had spent so much time in soft berths ashore that he had got out of touch with the discipline of a ship. There are many jealousies in the navy, growing out of alleged favoritism and social influence exerted in Washington. These causes indicate their proper remedies.

A Pioneer's Experience With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I am a pioneer in this county, having been here 30 years. Four years ago my little son Ellery became blood-poisoned by impure virus in vaccination. His arm swelled terribly, causing great agony; physicians said the arm must be amputated, and even then his recovery would be doubtful. One day I read about a blood purifier, new to me, and was surprised to learn that it was prepared by C. I. Hood, with whom I used to go to school in Chelsea, Vt. I decided to have my boy try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and was much gratified when it seemed to help him. He continued to grow better as we gave him the Sarsaparilla, and having used 8 bottles is now entirely cured. As Hood's Sarsaparilla has accomplished such wonderful results, I recommend it all I possibly can." JEROME M. SLEEPER, Upper Lake, Lake Co., Cal.

The City Treasurer

Of Lowell, Mass., says: "The above is from my brother, whose signature I recognized. I am also glad to testify to the excellence of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and to say that C. I. Hood & Co. are considered one of the most reliable firms in New England." VAN B. SLEEPER, City Treasurer, Lowell, Mass.

An Old Soldier's Story.

In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea, since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief they would injure my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my old comrads, who, while giving their service to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. Bending, Halsey, Ore. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

Unpleasantness Avoided.

Several months ago, Mr. Henry Plummer of Clements, Cal., who is subject to cramps, was taken with a severe attack. He had been accustomed to get relief by dosing with morphine, but the disagreeable effect that followed would make him miserable for hours after the cramp had been relieved. I persuaded him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He was much pleased with its effect as it was almost instantaneous, and no disagreeable after affects accompanied its use. Chas Bamert, Manager, Farmers' Trade Union, Clements, Cal. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

Happy Hoosiers.

Wm Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman of same place, says: "Find th Electric Bitter to be the best Liver and Kidney medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle at Wm. Pinniger's drug store.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Micheal Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption: she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at W. Pinniger's Drug Store, large bottles 50c. and $1 00.

Spring Medicine.

Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills on account of their mild action are especially adapted for correcting spring disorders, such as impure blood, tired brain and worn out body. They act promptly on the liver and kidneys; drive out all impurities from the blood, and malaria from the system. Only one pill at a dose. Try them this spring. Sold at 25 cents a box by S. J. Hodgkinson.

A Sure Cure for Piles.

Itching Piles are known by moisture, like perspiration causing intense itching when warm. This form, as well as blind, bleeding and protruding, yield at once to Dr. Bosanko's Pile remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs tumors, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. 50c. Druggists or mail; treatise free. Dr. Bosanko, Piqua, O. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson. ap3

Fryer's Abietine Ointment—Made from the gum of the Abietine tree, or "Pinus Sabiniana" is guaranteed for piles, salt rheum, catarrh, burns, old sores, etc. Price 25 cts. Sold by Wm Pindiger. The original and genuine Abietine preparations bear the fac-semile signature of D. F. Fryer.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. iy

THE GIANT POWDER ROUTE.

A Suicide Who Practically Annihilates His Head.

The Plumas National of Quincy, Cal., of the 28th inst., says: Last Wednesday the body of Frank Rivard was discovered in his cabin near Nelson Point, headless. The last seen of Mr. Rivard was on the preceding Sunday, when he visited the residence of Wm. Metcalf. He returned to his cabin early in the afternoon, and was last observed going from his cabin to Metcalf's diggings, and from that time on his absence was noted. Becoming alarmed at the non-appearance of Mr. Rivard, Mr. Metcalf sent his son on Wednesday to discover the cause, and the body was found as stated above. W. S. Dean, acting Coroner of Quincy, was sent for, and a jury impanelled to ascertain the cause of death. An examination of the body showed a complete absence of the head, and the walls and floor of the cabin were covered with fine particles of brains, bones, blood and hair. Not even a good size piece of bone or a tooth could be found to show that the body ever possessed a head; and also not a muscle, nerve or piece of skin remained of the neck. There were evidences on the floor showing that giant powder had been used, and the jury came to the conclusion that the deceased had met his death by exploding a piece of the powder in his mouth with the intent of destroying his life. The deceased had been under the influence of liquor for the past three weeks, and it is presumed that delirium tremens or temporary insanity led to the act.

CLARK W. CROCKER.

Death of the Third of Four Distinguished Brothers.

Clark W. Crocker, who died on Friday at his residence in San Francisco, 1609 Sutter street, was a brother of the late Charles and E. B. Crocker and H. S. Crocker, the well-known stationer, now the only survivor of the four. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis, of which he had a preliminary attack about two months since. Three weeks ago he lost one of his sons, Edgar E. Crocker, which event very possibly may have had some effect upon his own health.

Mr. Crocker was a native of New York, but he came to California in 1850, mining for a time in El Dorado county, and afterward going into business in Sacramento with his brother, Charles Crocker. Subsequently he resided in Yolo county for a while, but since 1875 has resided in San Francisco, a member of the firm of Sisson, Crocker & Co., railroad builders and contractors. He leaves a widow and five children.

"AFTER DARK."

To Be Presented at McKissick's Opera House To-Morrow Night.

The New York Herald says: Boucicault's "After Dark" was brought out last night at the People's Theater before an audience that packed the house to the ceiling. Only once before has that theater held such a tremendously large audience. Virtue in distress was well represented by W. A. Brady as Old Tom and Laura Biggar as Eliza. The former presented a very cleverly drawn character sketch, and was heartily applauded for his earnest and effective work. E. L. Walton's Dicey Morris was well acted. The scenery by Harley Merry deserves special praise. The view of London and the river Thames is about as complete a stage setting as New York has seen for some time. The introduction of Bobby Gaylor was a bright idea, his natural comedy work bringing down all parts of the house. "After Dark" is on for a run.

Some American Altitudes.

Among the high altitudes of points within the United States are Mount St. Elias, 19,500 feet, the highest peak of North America; Aconcagua, 23,800 feet, the highest point of the Western Continent; Argentine Pass, 13,200 feet, the highest wagon road in the world: Las Animas Forks, 11,200 feet, the highest town in North America; Marshall Pass, 10,870 feet, the highest railway pass in North America; Mount Whitney, 14,893 feet, the highest peak of the Sierra Nevada Mountains; Mitchell's High Peak, 6,711 feet, the highest summit of the Appalachian Mountains.

Some Good Advice.

The "Town Crier" of the News-Letter vouchsafes the following wholesome advice: The newly-married young bloods find it difficult to get over their old habits. They cannot refrain from lounging in the Kearny street cigar stores, and winking at persons they should blush to acknowledge. 'Tis hard, boys, but remember the innocent bride at home, forget the popping of champagne corks, the bubbling goblet in the back parlor, the late supper, and all the rest of naughtiness. Be good, then, and fling your latchkey into the bay the next time you find yourself on the boat.

Eastern Slope Placer Mines.

The Homer Index says: A number of prospectors will visit the Lee Vining Creek placers in the early days of July, and "give them a good rattle" for a month or so. There is gold all along the creek and for some distance on each side. No finer opportunity for hydraulic mining on an extensive scale can be found on this side of the Sierras. There is plenty of water and the fall is just about right. It is somewhat strange that this large area of auriferous soil and gravel has not been attacked in a proper manner before this.

The Sandwich Islands alphabet has 12 letters; Burmese, 19; Italian, 20; Bengalese, 21; Hebrew, Syrian, Chaldean and Samaritan, 22 each; French, 23; Greek, 24; Latin, 25; German, Dutch and English, 26 each; Spanish and Slavonic, 27 each; Arabic, 28; Persian and Coptic, 32; Georgian, 35; Armenian, 38; Russian, 41; Muscovite, 43; Sanscrit and Japanese, 50; Ethiopic and Tartarian, 202.

A Decaying Mining Town.

The Battle Mountain Central Nevadan pictures the once flourishing mining town of Austin as follows. Portions of Austin's main street, which in years past were the scenes of large business transactions and excitement, have in the last three years gradually crumbled and gone to the dogs. When the moon rises an observer would be led to believe that here and there large stone-front stories, once occupied by prosperous merchants were brightly lighted, only to find on passing that the roofs have fallen in and the moon's rays gleam through the still intact doors onto the shadowed sidewalk with sepulchral-like effect.

Some Ancient Millionaires.

The sacred writings tell us that Solomon was immensely rich—that silver was abundant in Jerusalem, and that in one year the King received from Hiram 300 talents of gold, equal to $16,250,000. It is known that in Assyria there were large masses of gold, and that Darius received in tribute from Persia as much as $16,250,000. In Greece, the wealth of Cœsus was estimated at 15,000,000 and that of Pytheus at as large a sum. At Rome, Tiberus, it is said, left a legacy of $110.000,000, and Augustus obtained by testamentary dispositions as much as $160,000,000.

The Prospective Mrs. H. M. Stanley.

Miss Dorothy Tennant of London, who is to marry Henry M. Stanley in July, is the original of the graceful picture by Millais called "Yes or No," which engravings and photographs have made so familiar. She is a beautiful woman of 30, well known in English society as a clever artist, a scholar, a linguist, a good talker and an authority on clothes, both by precept and example.

A Wonderful Progeny.

Mrs. Annie Roush of Letart, Ohio, was born at Morgantown, Penn., June 4, 1787, and has lived in Meig county since 1801. She is in good health and from appearances she will live several years yet. More remarkable than her age is the fact that she is at the head of fully 2,000 living descendants, which, it is believed, no other person in the world can successfully claim. She can look down on six generations.

Telegraph Line From Truckee to Tahoe.

Messrs. Moody, McKay, Bailey and Todman are about to put up a telegraph line between Truckee and Tahoe City. Frank Bell of Reno has made estimates and agreed to construct the line for $950. A telegraph line is something greatly needed and it is an investment that would pay. It is probable that the line will be constructed at once.

A Wealthy Widow.

Mrs. Mary Schenley's gift of twenty acres in Pittsburg as a site for Mr. Carnegie's million-dollar library is an admirable second to her present of 300 acres for a park for the city. She is richer than Mr. Carnegie by $9,000,000. She has $34,000,000, while he has but $25,000,009.

An Unusual Subject for a Novel.

Mrs. Amelia E. Barr, the well-known novelist, lives a hermit-sort of life on the summit of the Storm King Mountain on the Hudson. She goes to Europe soon to gather material for a new novel which will deal with the subject of Calvinism. Mrs. Barr writes all her novels with a typewriter.

Mrs. Stanford's Parents.

Mrs. Leland Stanford has given to the Albany Orphan Asylum two fine paintings of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop, who were deeply and actively interested in the welfare of that institution, which, indeed, they helped to found.

Chicago Real Estate.

Chicago real estate has been advancing in value very rapidly. The advance has been due largely to great expectations growing out of the location of the Columbian Exposition of 1893.

Better City Government.

Under a recent decision of the Supreme Court the District of Columbia Commissioners are exercising a firmer control of the metropolitan police force, and are weeding out the incompetents.

A Matter of Interest to Travelers.

Tourists, emigrants and mariners find that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicinal safeguard against unhealthful influences, upon which they can implicitly rely, since it prevents the effects that an unhealthy climate, vitiated atmosphere, unaccustomed or unwholesome diet, bad water or other conditions unfavorable to health, would otherwise produce. On long voyages, or journeys by land in latitudes adjacent to the equator, it is especially useful as a preventive of the febrile complaints and disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, which are apt to attack natives of the temperate zones sojourning or traveling in such regions, and is an excellent protection against the influence of extreme cold, sudden changes of temperature, exposure to damp or extreme fatigue. It not only prevents, intermittent and remittent fever, and other diseases of a malarial type, but eradicates them, in fact which has been notorious for years past in North and South America, Mexico, the West Indies, Australia and other countries.

Miss McLaughlin, who has been engaged at Mt. St. Mary's Academy for several years, left this morning for a two months vacation at Santa Cruz. She will return in September.

Surpassed the Men of Her Class.

Miss Phillippa Fawcett, daughter of the late Professor Fawcett, the blind English philosopher and statesman, has taken the highest educational honor yet won by a woman at Cambridge University. She is 21 years old, and her marks in mathematics far surpassed those received by any man at the recent examinations.

The Oldest Graduate.

Amasa Parker of Fitzwilliam Depot, N. H., thinks that as he is 99 years old, and was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1815, he is the oldest living college alumnus in this country. He was on the staff of the Governor of New Hampshire when Lafayette visited Concord in 1825.

Coming to Life.

Old mining camps in Inyo county, Cal., are coming to life again, after being dormant many years, and that entire region is improving in everything that goes to make up civilization. For this, says the Homer Index, the people are indebted to H. M. Yerington more than any other man.

A ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN.

He Tests a California Production.—His Report.

A St. Louis gentleman whose affliction was sick headaches was so surprised at their cure by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, that he called it to the attention of a relative, who happened to be Dr. F. A. Barrett, the well-known St. Louis physician of 2652 Shenandoah Street. The doctor saw at once that it differed from the potash preparations in that it was purely vegetable, and becoming interested, began a series of investigations, and in a subsequent letter candidly admitted its curative properties, and says:—

Wishing to test its virtues further, I used it in my own family, and prescribed it for patients who required a general system regulator. As a result, I can say it is an almost absolute cure for constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, and sick headaches. These troubles usually come from a disturbed condition of the stomach and bowels, and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the best laxative and stomach regulator I have ever seen, and as a general system corrective is almost perfection.

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS.

There are three great rocks ahead of the practical young man who has his foot upon the ladder and is beginning to rise, writes Andrew Carnegie, in the New York Tribune. First, drunkenness, which, of course, is fatal. There is no use in wasting time upon any young man who drinks liquor, no matter how exceptional his talents. Indeed, the greater his talents are the greater the disappointment must be. The second rock ahead is speculation. The business of a speculator and that of a manufacturer or man of affairs are not only distinct but incompatible. To be successful in the business world the manufacturer's and the merchant's profits only should be sought. The manufacturer should go forward steadily, meeting the market price. When there are goods to sell, sell them; when supplies are needed, purchase them, without regard to the market price in either case. I have never known a speculative manufacturer or business man who scored a permanent success. He is rich one day, bankrupt the next. Besides this, the manufacturer aims to produce articles, and in so doing to employ labor. This furnishes a laudable career. A man in this vocation is useful to his kind. The merchant is usefully occupied distributing commodities; the banker in providing capital. The third rock is akin to speculation—indorsing. Business men require irregular supplies of money, at some periods little, at others enormous sums. Others being in the same condition there is strong temptation to indorse mutually. This rock should be avoided. There are emergencies, no doubt, in which men should help their friends, but there is a rule that will keep one safe. No man should place his name upon the obligation of another if he has not sufficient to pay it without detriment to his own business. It is dishonest to do so. Men are trustees for those who have trusted them, and the creditor is entitled to all his capital and credit. For one's own firm, "your name your fortune and your sacred honor;" but for others, no matter under what circumstances, only such aid as you can render without danger to your trust. It is a safe rule, therefore, to give the cash direct that you have to spare for others and never your indorsement or guarantee.

One great cause of failure of young men in business is lack of concentration. They are prone to seek outside investments. The cause of many a surprising failure lies in so doing. Every dollar of capital and credit, every business thought should be concentrated upon the one business upon which a man has embarked. He should never scatter his shot. It is a poor business which will not yield better returns for increased capital than any outside investment. No man or set of men or corporation can manage a business man's capital as well as he can manage it himself. The rule, "Do not put all your eggs in one basket," does not apply to a man's life-work. Put all your eggs in one basket, and then watch that basket, is the true doctrine—the most valuable rule of all. While business of all kinds has gone, and is still going rapidly, into a few vast concerns, it is nevertheless demonstrated every day that genuine ability, interested in the profits, is not only valuable but indispensable to their successful operation. Through corporations whose shares are sold daily upon the market; through partnerships that find it necessary to interest their ablest workers; through merchants who can manage their vast enterprises successfully only by interesting exceptional ability: in every quarter of the business world, avenues greater in number, wider in extent, easier of access than ever before existed, stand open to the sober, frugal, energetic and able mechanic, to scientifically educated youth, to the office-boy and to the clerk—avenues through which they can reap greater successes than were ever before within the reach of these classes in the history of the world.

When, therefore, the young man, in any position or in any business, explains and complains that he has not opportunity to prove his ability and to rise to partnership, the answer suffices:

The fault, dear Brutus, is not in our stars,
But in ourselves, that we are underlings.

A YOUNG FINANCIER.

The Draft He Made Upon the Deposit in His Mother's Bank.

When we left Boston for sojourn in the country, says a writer in the Boston Transcript, grandpa gave each of the lads twenty-five cents apiece to spend while away.

During our whole journey in the steam-cars Paul's whole conversation was of the many purchases he proposed to make, and no sooner had the lumbering stage coach deposited us at our destination than he slipped away from me and ran to the corner-store, returning with fifteen cents' worth of sticky country molasses candy and a dime.

I confiscated the candy, with a view to doling it out in limited quantities from time to time, and persuaded him to deposit the dime in my pocket-book, telling him that it would be just like depositing the money in the bank; that I would keep it for him; that any time when he really wanted it he could come to me and draw it out.

I had no occasion to use any money for four or five days, when on going to my pocket-book I was surprised to find that the supply of loose coin had noticeably diminished. At first I could not account for it, but after a little thought I concluded to question the small boy. Calling him to me, I said:

"Paul, did you take your ten cents out of mamma's pocket-book?"

"Yes, mamma! I have tooken it out four times, and now I want it again."

A Pretty Theory Dissipated.

One often reads pathetic stories of pet birds that die simultaneously with, or shortly after, their child owners. It sounds pretty, but the simple prose of the matter often is that the owners infected the birds. Canaries and other songsters will catch scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria or almost any other human disease, and if left in the sick-room they are almost sure to be infected. Pet cats and small dogs, too, are often sacrificed in the same way, and in their cases there is also the risk that they will go out and become the unwitting instruments of disseminating disease.

HANGING TO A BRANCH.

According to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, an Alabama farmer, named Brill, recently had a frightful adventure while deer-hunting in the mountains. He had been tramping for many hours, and was very thirsty, when he noticed a small spring gushing out at the foot of a cliff. He began at once to make his way down the steep descent, but was soon brought to a standstill on the edge of a perpendicular wall.

A tree was growing near the base of the cliff, and one of its branches came within reach of the hunter's hand. He let down his gun by means of a string, and then swung himself off the cliff by the branch.

As the limb bent under his weight, it rustled against the cliff, and an instant before Brill was ready to let go he heard the rattle of a rattlesnake. The creature was directly at his feet, coiled and ready to strike. In the next breath, before the man had time to think, a second and larger snake crawled out from the base of the cliff, coiled itself, and sprung its horrible rattle.

Brill clung to the branch with a drowning man's grip, but his hair was standing on end, and his eyes felt as if they were starting from their sockets.

A moment more and a third rattle sounded, and then another and another, as snake after snake crawled out of crevices in the rock and coiled themselves in the sun.

Brill could not drop into this nest of snakes, but alas! by this time his strength was so far exhausted that it was impossible for him to draw himself up to the top of the cliff. He could only hang upon the limb till the last moment, and then let go.

His arms grew numb; his head began to feel as if it were filled with lead. Another minute and he must release his hold; but he made no outcry, and in a few moments he saw the snakes uncoiling one by one, and slowly crawling away. This gave him new strength, and he held on till the last one was out of sight. Then he dropped in a dead faint. It was near the middle of the afternoon when he regained consciousness, so stiff and sore that it was with great difficulty he could crawl homeward.

NOT TO BE BLUFFED.

If some eccentric statistician should happen to come along to make an enumeration of Mr. Jay Gould's virtues the foremost entries on his list would be apt to tell of "the little man's" patience, his willingness to wait, his refusal to let anybody bluff him. Here is a recent illustration, says the New York Times:

Some time ago, when half a dozen diverse interests were contriving plans for the reorganization of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad Company, Gould's co-operation was wanted all around, and there have been suspicions that his finger, unsuspected, was in various slices of the pie. Evidently, though, there was one would-be reorganizing party whom he hadn't "seen," which oversight, he was notified in a formal and rather warlike fashion, must be remedied. "If I don't hear from you by three o'clock to-morrow," read the message to Mr. Gould, "I shall proceed regardless of you. And —" The "and" was a rather lively threat.

"It's too bad," was the Gould comment, "too bad to make him wait so long and waste so much time. George (to his son), put on your hat and go right down to the street and present my compliments and say to this gentleman that I have heard that procrastination is the thief of time; if he's got such a good thing he oughtn't to wait a single minute."

That particular M. K. T. reorganization scheme was not heard of again.

A CHINESE BRIDE.

The Fearfully and Wonderfully Made Dress She Wore at Her Wedding.

A writer in the North China Herald describes the dress worn by a Chinese lady at her wedding, of which he was a witness, as follows: "At length we were admitted to inspect the bride, whose four-hours' toilet was just completed, and a marvelous spectacle, truly, was the figure seated motionless in the center of the room. Gorgeously elaborate was her array from head to foot, the former crowned with a helmet-like erection of a material resembling turquois-enamel, wrought into the finest filigree work, from which projected glittering artificial beetles and butterflies and other quaint rich ornaments, the whole surmounted by three large, round tufts of crimson silk, arranged tiara-wise. From the brim of this head-gear fell all round strings of pearl and ruby beads, about half-a-yard in length. Just visible through these, at the back, were broad loops of jet black hair, stiff and solid as polished ebony, and decorated with artificial pink roses. Her principal vestment was a long tunic, whose foundation fabric of crimson satin was scarcely discernable amid its embroidery of gold; a corner turned back, lined with emerald satin, revealed an underskirt panelled in brilliant red and blue silk, this also profusely trimmed with gold embroidery. A belt of scarlet satin, studded with tablets of white cornelian, crossed the waist behind. From the front edge of her headdress a red silk vail fell almost to the ground, adding much to her preterhuman aspect."

A Washerwoman Princess.

Pope Sextus V. was, as all the world knows, of the very humblest origin. He had been a goat-herd and one of his sisters was a washerwoman. When, however, he became Supreme Pontiff he brought his kinswoman, the laundress, to Rome, made her a Princess and installed her in a magnificent palace. The next day the statue of Pasquin was found to be indued with a shirt, the cleanliness of which left much to be desired. The inimitable Marforio asked, in a placard which was read with a universal grin, the why and the wherefore of the grimy undergarment, and the next morning Pasquin replied that he could not get his linen washed because his washerwoman had become a Princess.

KISSED ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE.

"You scoundrel," yelled young Jacob Green
At his good neighbor Brown,—
"You kissed my wife upon the street,—
I ought to knock you down."
"That's where you're wrong," good Brown replied,
In accents mild and meek;
"I kissed her; that I've not denied
But I kissed her on the cheek—

and I did so because she looked so handsome—the very picture of beauty and health. What is the secret of it?"

"Well," replied Green, "since you ask it, I will tell you; she uses Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I accept your apology. Good night."

An unhealthy woman is rarely, if ever, beautiful. The peculiar diseases to which so many of the sex are subject, are prolific causes of pale, sallow faces, dull, lustreless eyes and emaciated forms. Women so afflicted, can be permanently cured by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; and with the restoration of health comes that beauty which, combined with good qualities of head and heart, makes women angels of loveliness.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. It is a positive specific for leucorrhœa, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb.

The several Republican County Central Committees will call a

PRIMARY ELECTION

Of the People on

Saturday, Aug. 16, 1890,

For the purpose of electing delegates to the said State Convention, the Primary Elections to be carried out in compliance with the laws of the State and the instructions of this committee.

The following test will be required of each and every voter at the said Primary elections:

"I am a citizen of this State and will support the nominees of the Republican party."

The following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this committee reaffirms the State and National Republican platform for 1888, including the declaration that "the Republican party is in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money" and that it, "condemns all efforts to demonetize silver."

Resolved, That the persistent neglect of Secretary Windom to increase the coinage of silver to the maximum of four million dollars per month, coupled with his attempt to influence Congressional legislation so as to perpetuate silver demonetization, is a shameless violation of the silver plank of the National Republican platform, an attack on the rights and interests of the miners, farmers and workers of the land, and an act of party perfidity that should call for his retirement from the councils of an administration which is pledged to help and not hinder the demonetization of silver.

Resolved, That the Republican party is in favor of free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver; that it holds to this principle as a tenet of party faith and a test of party allegiance; that it will permit of no abandonment or modification of this doctrine; that let whosoever will prove recreant to the principal of bimetallism it will remain steadfast thereto, and that it invites all voters in Nevada who favor the repeal of the iniquitous interlineated law of 1873 by which silver was demonetized, and who desire the establishment of free and unlimited coinage as the law of the United States of America, to join in electing delegates to a Republican State Convention.
